PER CENT CLAUSE WOULD BIND GROWER HAND AND FOOT

In Communication, Executive Committee of Burley Tobacco Society Shows How Such A Provision Would Work Destruction
Of The Movement---Opinion Of Lawyers Given in Letter.

In a communication to members of the Executive Committee of the Burley Tobacco Society explains why no per cent. clause was inserted in the contract for the 1910 pool, add why such a clause could not be embodied. Accompanying this communication is a letter from Col. Jno. R. Allen, written March 5, in which is stated the opinion of the attorneys for the Society. The letters follow:

Dear Sir:—

Some persons who desire the ruin and destruction of the Burley Tobacco Society and who would in accomplishing their purpose deliver the Tobacco growers bound hand and foot into the power of the Tobacco Trust, are through newspapers and on the stump demanding that a 75% clause be inserted in the pledge.

Since there may be honest men who honestly believe that such a clause should be in the pledge, we take this means of telling you why those who have your interests at heart and whom you have chosen to protect your property did not and could not insert in the 1910 pledge a 75% clause.

The first pledge contained a per cent. clause, and we learned by experience that there is danger in such a clause.

When we took legal steps against men who broke their pledges some lawyers who could make the worse cause appear the better would take the ground that we did not have the required per cent. In a community where officers of the law and public sentiment were in the favor of pooling the verdict would be for the Society. In communities where the officers of the law and public sentiment were against pooling, the verdict would be for the man who broke his pledge. In this way the loss of the pooled tobacco worked hardship to the honest members. Seeing the difficulty that it made, our lawyers advised us not to put a per cent clause in subsequent contracts.

We include in this circular a letter from Col. Jno. R. Allen giving his opinion on this subject. The General Assembly has passed all the laws necessary to protect our Society if we use common sense and the light of experience. But to put a per cent clause in the 1910 pledge would open a gap through which contract breakers could escape.

A per cent clause in the contract would only make a mark for the Trust to shoot at. If we inserted a 75% clause the Trust would have only to buy 25% and thus make any pool impossible. Having bought the smallest fraction over one-fourth of the crop at good prices the Trust would be able to control the remainder of the crop for anything it was pleased to pay.

The way to get 75% pledged is to go after it and not to waste time and energy in a wrangle about a technicality that would seriously weaken the pool. The only reason that we have not 75% or 85% in the 1909 pool is that selfish or short-sighted men claiming to be the growers' friends made war on us during the last pooling season and confused and misled the people. Don't be misled this time.

Extending the time of declaring the pool to November 1st, gives two boards the opportunity to pass on it. The old board has the right to declare the pool off prior to October 1st, if in their judgment they deem it best. The new board, elected about October 1st and representing the will of those who have just elected them, will have the right to declare the pool off on or before November 1st.

Recently we mailed you a four-page sheet containing a full discussion of the matters of difference between the Society and those who seek our ruin. We earnestly hope that you will take time to read all that is in those four pages and also the contents of a second sheet which we shall send you in a few days. It is the farmers' fault to work too much and to read and think too little. It is just as necessary to maintain an organization to sell your tobacco at a good price as it is to grow it.

Sincerely yours,

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE BURLEY
TOBACCO SOCIETY.

LETTER FROM COL. JOHN R. ALLEN.

Lexington, Ky., May 5, 1910.
Executive Board of Burley Tobacco Society, City.

Gentlemen:—

Mr. Pendleton and myself have gone over the draft of the pledge for the year 1910, and return the same with certain amendments and changes which we suggested and which are noted thereon.

We have heretofore advised the Board very strongly not to embody in the pledge for 1910 any guaranty of the percentage of tobacco to be pooled or any number of acres to be pooled before the pool becomes effective, and we are glad to know after talking with the Board that the majority of the Board agree with us in this opinion.

Our experience with litigation growing out of suits against dumpers is that a guaranty of a certain percentage of the acreage or a guaranty of a percentage of the amount of tobacco to be pooled before the pool becomes effective was a great detriment to us under the 1906 pledge and put us at a great disadvantage, because in every instance the parties plead that we did not have the percentage pooled as we claimed, and it would necessitate, if the same clause were contained in the 1910 pledge, a great deal of trouble and expense and investigation in order to prove that we had the necessary percentage pooled.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN R. ALLEN,
Attorney.

Mrs. Newly Wed—Oh! Tom, dear, I made this cake all myself. Newly Wed—Cut it out. You're too light for such heavy work.

Kitty—How do you manage to keep your complexion so fresh?

Peggy—I go to the baseball games and sit on the bleachers.

Bethel Bank Must Have Fifty Per Cent of Capital Paid in Cash.

Fifty per cent of the capital stock of all banks must be paid up in cash is the ruling of Secretary of State Bruner, in the case of the incorporation of the Bethel Bank, of Bethel, Bath county. Articles of incorporation of the bank were filed the first of the week, but Secretary of State Bruner insisted that an affidavit be filed that 50 per cent of the capital stock, which is $15,000, had been paid in cash. The stockholders are Jacob Byrd, John Dickens, W. R. Pieratt, Senator John S. Vise, all of Bethel and W. E. Ballinger, of Moorefield, Ballinger is the Cashier of the Moorefield Deposit Bank.

City Council.

The City Council at its adjourned meeting held last Thursday evening, after attending to routine work fixed the levy for the ensuing year at 75 cents on the $100. worth of taxable property in the City and $1 50 poll tax. The poll tax was made necessary because of the cancellation of the contract heretofore existing between the City and County regarding the paupers residing within the City, under the terms of which the County levied a poll tax and paid to the City the amount thus collected from citizens of the City. The City, in turn, then provided for its own paupers, and did not levy a poll tax. Under the present levy, the citizens of the City will be required to pay a double poll tax, one to the County and one to the City.

Messrs. J. W. Hinson, Jas. S. Turner and Howard Anderson were re-elected as policemen for a term of six months. All of the gentlemen have made good officers and the people are well pleased with their services.

Married in Indiana.

At Marion, Ind., last Tuesday Mrs. Stella Cooper Gay, of this city, and Mr. Ned Langley, a well known theatrical manager, who has had charge of the company of which Mrs. Gay was leading lady, were quietly married in that city. They will reside at the groom's home in Marion in the future. Mrs. Gay is a daughter of Mrs. J. E. Cooper, of this city, and is a beautiful and accomplished young woman. Her many friends here will join us in best wishes.

This Is No Dream.

Congressman John W. Langley was re-nominated by the Republicans of the Tenth District. This is the third time Mr. Langley has been honored with this nomination but from the way the straws are blowing in various parts of the country, it will be a case of the "pitcher going to the well once too often."—Richmond Climax.

Prince Rupert Sold.

Mr. Louis A. Osborn, of Sedalia, Mo., on his recent trip to Kentucky, purchased from R. B. Young, of this city, the well known saddle stallion, Prince Rupert, 887, full brother to the great Chester Dare, 10. He also purchased the two-year-old colt, Robert L., 3424, by Highland Flower, 1662.

Glidden Tour.

Lloyd Frazer, Paul and Stanley Strother, W. H. Berry and G. B. Senff went to Lexington last Tuesday to see the Glidden tourists go through that city. The run was made in the Roq, the car that is represented in this city by Strother & Frazer, in the fast time of one hour and nineteen minutes. A very enjoyable day was spent by the party.

ANTI-RACING MEASURES SIGNED BY HUGHES

Bills To Prevent Oral Book-Making in New York Are Now Laws.

Governor Hughes, of New York, has signed the three Agnew-Parkins bills designed to prevent oral bookmaking at race tracks.

One bill makes it a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for a period not more than one year, for a person who makes a book on a horse race, "with or without writing." The law is designed to meet the Court of Appeals decision which it was claimed, permitted oral betting, and takes effect September 1.

Another bill repeals the section of the Percy-Gray racing law, which exempted from personal liability trustees or directors of racing associations, who caused signs to be posted at their tracks to the effect that gambling was prohibited, and who employed officers to enforce the law, even though such gambling was carried on. The third bill makes the anti-gambling section of the penal code apply to race tracks.

The bills were vigorously opposed in the Legislature by the racing interest and at a hearing before the Governor.

The Governor also signed Senator Schlosser's bill repealing the tax of a per cent on the gross receipts of trotting and running race meetings.

Mayor Head Announces For Governor.

Mayor W. O. Head, of Louisville, has announced his candidacy for Governor, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

In his announcement Head stated that he favors a more business-like administration with less politics attached to the office of Governor and the establishment of more and better equipped schools.

Redwine Is Not a Candidate in The Tenth.

Hon. Matt Redwine, of Sandy Hook, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Tenth Congressional District. When accosted by the Democratic leaders as to his probability of making the race for the nomination, he said: "Do you think that I would associate with such fellows as Payne and Aldrich? I had rather wait until Stevenson, Byrd or some of these other fellows go up there and inaugurate a house cleaning."

Hon. Floyd Byrd, of Winchester, the well known criminal lawyer, is being generally boosted by his friends for the seat in Congress and it is generally believed that he will enter the race for the nomination.

Seventeen Have Perfect Record.

Seventeen local school children were tied for the medal offered by Superintendent Hopper for the highest mark in punctuality and attendance during the year just closed, all having a perfect record—an unprecedented occurrence. Miss Mabel Horton received the medal on the final draw, but this detracts no credit or honor from the others. Their names follow: Ennis Huiline, Gene Schlegel, Leo Schlegel, Lena Glick, Catherine Conroy, Vivian Alfrey, Mabel Horton, Carroll Chennault, Abbie Davis, Hurley Curtis, Richard Holland, Malcolm Thompson, Tom Previtt, Carroll Kelly, Tom Grubbs, Nellie Vice and Lucy Clay Woodford.

The Horse.

From an annual event the European tours of horse importers have come to be perennial affairs. All the year around buyers are searching, selecting, buying and shipping. Their activities have heavily drained the resources of the little mother countries. Still the good horses come. One man reports from France this spring that he has selected the finest collection of two-year-old Percherons that he ever bought. Another writes that he cannot find a good four-year-old stallion in France. This shows how closely they have been bought in the last few years for the American and Argentine trade. The many superb two-year-olds brought over last year reflect the great resources and excellent breeding stock yet owned in France. All fears that the quality of her horses would be reduced by the incessant shipments to this country have not yet been realized. American breeders will some day supply the home demand from their own stables, but the scarcity of purebred horses here now and the preponderance of inferior grade stallions as well as mares leave plenty of room for all the good imported horses that may be found. Some large purchases have already been made in France, but the prospect is that the number brought over will not be sufficient to fill the demand. Farmers who plan to make their selections early will have the best opportunity to secure high-class young stallions and fillies.

Trade at Home.

Two wide awake business men, merchant and capitalist, and all who are interested in the city's welfare, should put forth every effort to improve the town and make it a place for homes, to encourage new enterprises that already have a foothold in our midst. One of the best means of encouraging a home concern is to give it home patronage, but there are many in our city who don't do this.

Let it be remembered that every dollar spent in patronizing a home enterprise adds to the prosperity of our little city and with the growth of our city's prosperity comes the increase in value of real estate building.

Surprise Wedding.

Miss Ruby Clark and Mr. Walter Mackie surprised their many friends by being quietly married at the bride's home Wednesday evening, June 15, at 8 o'clock, her foster father, Rev. H. D. Clark, performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives.

Miss Clark is a sweet girl of the younger set and is quite pretty and popular.

Mr. Mackie is a deserving, popular and industrious.

The young and popular couple has our best wishes for a long and happy married life.

Big Fight.

Governor Gillett's message put a quietus on the Jeffries-Johnson fight scheduled for the 4th, of July. The Governor gives positive and peremptory instructions to the Attorney General to stop the fight. Attorney General Webb, acting under the instructions of the Governor, will file a petition with the Superior Court and ask for a restraining order against the fight principals and promoters. It is understood that the Mayor of San Francisco has said the fight will take place in defiance to the Governors orders, but little credence is put in this report.

Big Potato Crop.

The Jefferson county, Ky., potato crop this year will amount to from 1,000 to 1,200 car loads, being the largest yield and of better quality than for several years past. Cool weather has benefited the potatoes, and there has been about the right amount of rainfall to cause the potatoes to grow rapidly. They have been coming on the market for the past two weeks, being fully two weeks earlier in maturing than usual.

Moody Ill.

Senator Lodge has introduced in the Senate a bill permitting Associate Judge Moody of the Supreme Court of the United States to retire from office with full pay, notwithstanding he has not served ten years nor is he seventy years old, as required under the existing law. Justice Moody's health is given as a reason for the proposed act.

PREVENT BIG FIGHT.

We congratulate Gov. Gillette, of California, upon the stand he has taken upon the side of law and decency, in directing the Attorney General of that State to see that the law is enforced and the Jeffries-Johnson fight prevented by appropriate legal proceedings. This step on the part of the Chief Executive was necessary because of the refusal of the Mayor of San Francisco and the District Attorney to do their plain duty under their oath.

That prize fighting is thoroughly demoralizing and conducive of bad results, all right-thinking people agree and we sincerely hope the time is not far distant when a quickened public conscience will make this barbarous practice an impossibility any where in the United States.

DISMAL FAILURE.

Much has been said about the dismal failure of the Taft administration, but it remained for Collier's Weekly to admirably size up the situation, in the following advertisement: "Wanted to Exchange, one judicial temperament for one pugilistic temperament. Inquire White House."

That incorruptible public servant Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, seems to have a habit of propounding extremely relevant and pointed questions to the servile tools of special interests so numerous in the U. S. Senate, and in a recent debate asked, "If the people really rule, why don't the people get what they want?" 'Tis a bit singular isn't it?

The reception accorded former President Roosevelt everywhere he went while abroad, as well as his New York welcome last Saturday, conclusively proves him the most influential and popular world figure.

The Business Men's Fourth of July celebration promises to be a hummer.

Shooting Affray.

On Sunday evening on east Mayssville street, Roger Crooks, colored, shot a negro known as "Yellow" Robb with a shotgun loaded with bird shot. The shooting was done at close range and "Yellow" was pretty badly crippled, the shot taking effect in his legs below the knees. The trouble was caused by bad whiskey and a crap game. Crooks has not yet been captured. He is a bad negro and was out of the penitentiary on parole.

Roosevelt's

HOME COMING ECLIPSES ALL WELCOMES.

Guns Thunder at Him, Whistles Scream in His Ears and Millions Cheer.

After an absence of nearly 13 months, Col. Roosevelt set foot on home shores at New York last Saturday and received the greatest reception ever accorded an American citizen. He was welcomed home by Mayor Gaynor of New York in the following language:

Ladies and Gentlemen: We are all here to welcome Mr. Roosevelt to New York. We have watched his progress through Europe with delight. Wherever he has gone he has been honored as a man, as an exponent of the principles of the Government of this country. He was received everywhere in Europe and honored as no man from this country ever was honored. We glory in all that, and it only remains for me to say now, Mr. Roosevelt, that we welcome you home most heartily, and we are glad to see you again.

Replying to Mayor Gaynor's address of welcome, Col. Roosevelt said:

"I thank you, Mayor Gaynor, through you I thank your committee, and through them I wish to thank the American people for their greeting. I need hardly say that I am most deeply moved by the reception given me. No man could receive such a greeting without being made to feel both very proud and very humble.

"I have been away a year and a quarter from America, and I have seen strange and interesting things alike in the heart of the frowning wilderness and in the capitals of the mightiest and most highly polished of civilized nations. I have thoroughly enjoyed myself and I am more glad than I can say to get home, to be back in my own country, back among people I love. And I am ready and eager to do my part so far as I am able in helping solve problems which must be solved if we, of this, the greatest Democratic republic upon which the sun has ever shone, are to see its destinies rise to the high level of our hopes and its opportunities.

"This is the duty of every citizen, but it is peculiarly my duty; for any man who has ever been honored by being made President of the United States is thereby forever after rendered the debtor of the American people and is bound throughout his life to remember this as his prime obligation, and in private life as much as in public life so to carry himself that the American people may never have cause to feel regret that once they placed him at their head."

The following were among the notables not in New York to welcome Roosevelt:

President William H. Taft—Had engagement to receive degree from Villanova College.

Vice President James Sherman—Detained in Washington by illness of his wife.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon—"How could I get away with Congress on my hands?"

Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York—Too busy with thirty-day bills left by last Legislature.

Former Governor Benjamin B. Odell—Too busy in Newburg.

Chris Woolvine was shot five times and his son, Kirkden Woolvine, was shot twice. It is thought both will die.

Leonard Van Winkle was shot three times, but it is thought he will recover.

Twelve men took part in the affair, and all used shotguns or pistols. Lakes was the only man on his side to be injured. All the others were members of the opposing side.

The fight was the result of an old grudge, it is said, and when the men met the trouble came on with a rush.

The Court of Appeals has decided the act of the last Legislature providing that no Negro industrial school can be located in any precinct in the State unless a majority of the voters of that precinct voted for its location.

MISSOURI DOUBLES TOBACCO YIELD

Wonderful Revival of an Almost Forgotten Industry of That State—Growing White Burley.

The night riders of Kentucky and Tennessee, when they began their war, two years ago, on the tobacco syndicate, little figured that by their depredations in those two states they would revive and virtually restore in Missouri an industry which had almost become a lost art—the growing of leaf tobacco.

Early estimation and advance figures intended for the 1910 Red Book of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, issued recently by Commissioner J. C. A. Miller, indicate that if all the farmers of Missouri in 1909 devoted 5,010 acres of land to tobacco, and at an average production of 855 pounds to the acre the entire crop for that year amounted to about 4,333,850 pounds of leaf. At an average price of 13 cents per pound this mass of nerve-soothing "weed" was worth $576,499, if all had been sent to market.

When a comparison is made with the crop of 1905 it is at once plain that the increase in acreage for 1909 was 100 per cent, and in yield of tobacco over 102 per cent.

In other words, in one year the industry of growing tobacco doubled, and in two years it nearly tripled itself. All this information, and much more, will make up a chapter on "Revival of Tobacco Growing in Missouri—Crop Doubles Itself in a Year" in this year's Red Book.

By the following table Supervising Statistician A. T. Edmonston, of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, has endeavored to show the gains and losses of Missouri in a tobacco-growing state in the last ten years. Immediately after the Civil War Missouri ranked well up mid thousands of acres were given over to the industry. But the last crop amounted to over 100,000 pounds when 1890, and is told about in the 1909 Red Book at the same time gives the average each year and the value of each annual production.

Year	Acres	Production (pounds)	Value ($)
1890	1,000	100,000	13,000
1900	1,000	100,000	13,000
1909	5,010	4,333,850	576,499

In 1908, after the tobacco war and night riding commenced in Kentucky, the wholesale consumers turned their attention to Missouri encouraging farmers here to attempt to raise white burley in large quantities by distributing free seed and offering a fancy price for all which was produced. The effect was magical, as the crop doubled up over 1907, and so did the worth. Early in 1908 tobacco growers pursued the same course with the result already related.

The white burley tobacco grown in Missouri in 1909, to be sold on the Kentucky market, was disposed of for an average of $12.88 per hundred. The crop, consisting of 22,000 pounds, was shipped from Wallace, Mo. The tobacco was pronounced by tobacco men of superior quality, establishing the fact that white burley tobacco can be grown in the state.

Call Issued.

Hon. F. A. Lyons, Sr., Chairman of the Tenth District Democratic Congressional Committee, of Beattyville, Ky., has issued a call for a meeting of the Committee to be held in that city at 1 o'clock on June 28, 1910, for the purpose of fixing the time and manner of selecting a Democratic nominee for Congress in this district.

A trial will convince anyone that the best in the meat and grocery line will always be found at Vanarsdell's.

TO OUR READERS!

By special arrangement we offer you a great opportunity to read

"Chantecler"

EDMOND ROSTAND'S wonderful "Chantecler" is the dramatic sensation of the world. In it Rostand proves himself to be one of the greatest dramatists of all times. "Chantecler" is not only the greatest play of the century—it is the one great play of the last hundred years. It is an exquisite story, palpitating with human sympathy and interest. It warms the blood—stirs the emotions—arouses every commendable sentiment. "Chantecler" sparkles with wit—counsels with wise philosophy—entertains with fascinating fiction—while the tones of the hour bell of today, and today's problems, are heard through the medium of "Chantecler's" deliciously up-to-date slang. No language contains sufficient superlatives to describe it. Only reading and study will enable you to appreciate it. It has aroused all France—London has gone mad over it.

The Only English Translation

There has been chosen HAMPTON'S translation of the play, which is the only one in the English-speaking world. The publication will be in four installments, each to each installment, beginning in the June number. The translator is the same who translated "Cyrano de Bergerac" so fascinating to American booklovers. We have made special arrangements with the publishers of HAMPTON'S by which our readers may get "Chantecler" and the many other fine features published in HAMPTON'S in connection with our own paper, practically without cost. Read our offer below.

Mrs. Rheta Dorr's articles on the "Power of the Women's Clubs" are without an equal in their field. In addition the foremost story-tellers of the world; Arthur Stringer has a new series called "The Adventures of an Insomniac"; James B. Connolly describes in several stories his Trip Around the World with the American Fleet; Frederick Palmer is contributing a series of airship stories of which Danbury Rodd is the central character. The only new idea in detective fiction since Sherlock Holmes is provided in the second series of stories about Lather Trant, the psychological detective, written by Edwin Balmer and William G. Types in Horses.

To the horseman, it is a well-known fact that a truebred horse requires the combined efforts of a large number of breeders of trotting stock. The type desired should first be defined upon, and animals should be selected which bear the closest resemblance in conformation, poise, style and gait to the type sought. Considerable inbreeding may be necessary to fix the type. Each crop of foals must be carefully examined and only those retained for breeding purposes that are in all respects nearest type desired. It would be better for the government to undertake the task than for a company of private individuals, for it may require years of patient, persistent effort to accomplish the object, and the returns might be so disappointing to some at first that they would give up in disgust.

One great obstacle to the improvement of the speed and racing qualities of the American trotter in the past has been that the methods of the most progressive breeders have been abandoned almost immediately after the death of those breeders. If the ideas and methods of Leland Stanford could have been continued for at least half a century, the lesson taught would have been much more valuable to breeders of trotting stock than was his few years' experience at Palo Alto. We cannot recall a case where a successful trotting breeding establishment has been kept up for any great length of time after the death of its founder. The animals which he selected with care and with whose characteristics he had become familiar have passed to new owners, often to men just starting in the business, whose ideas and methods were different from those of the former owner of the animals, many of which never came up to the expectations of their new owners. Most breeders are hoping for quick and profitable returns from their investments. No other quality brings so desirable a class of customers as extreme race-winning speed, and it will probably always be the aim of proprietors of large breeding establishments to produce that kind regardless of type rather than to establish a desirable type—American Horse Breeder.

Needed an Hourglass.
A clergyman made an unusual call at the home of a parishioner. He talked and talked. Finally little Edna, who was in the room, whispered: "Mamma, did he forget to bring his hourglass with him?"

Will Found Home For Wornout Newspaper Men.

J. Craig Smith, a capitalist of Youngstown, announced that he is planning with a wealthy widow philanthropist, of St. Louis, whose name he is not at liberty to make public, to establish a home for newspaper men on the Mississippi River, fourteen miles north of, St. Louis.

Mr. Smith has just returned from Missouri, where he is interested extensively in mining enterprises. He has selected a farm of 160 acres, he says, for the home. He said it was not his plan to make a sanitarium or place for the treatment of ill newspaper men, but a place of rest for tired and wornout men connected with the editorial staffs of newspapers.

Mr. Smith will return to Missouri in a short time to complete details of the proposed home. He expects to have it open by fall. It is planned to conduct the institution in the same manner that the Actor's Home is managed.

Friends In Need.
What need we have any friends, if we should never have need of them? They were the most needless creatures living, because we never have use for them, and would most resemble a weed instruments hung up in cases that keep their sounds to themselves.—Shakespeare.

THOROUGHbred HOGS

Are Money Makers, and Should Be On Every Farm.

The question is often asked me, "Would you have a thoroughbred herd on every farm?" I say yes, if my plan could prevail I would have nothing but pure bred hogs in the country. I do not mean by that, that every herd should be registered. That would be an expensive uselessness, but I do mean that all stock should be traceable to recorded ancestry. Then let the registered herds be kept up to the highest standard of excellence to supply a male herd for each of these pork herds. The professional breeder would then do a flourishing business and the farmer would not be looking around for the best hog in Christendom for ten dollars.

I say that until the thoroughbred hog shall be given a place on every farm his true mission is not fulfilled, and further that the mission of the professional breeder if he be honest and unselfish and see the whole thoroughbred scheme in its proper light is not fulfilled until such is the case. But though firm in the faith as I am I have grave doubts if it is ever accomplished. There is too great a diversity in human nature, too wide a range in disposition, too many scrubs men, too much difference to ever expect to see all the farmers stand on a level in any branch of industry. One fact is well established, that when a man once gets a taste of thoroughbred blood, like the bull dog, he never lets loose except to get a better hold. —Extracts from an address before an Iowa farmers' institute.

Throng of Buyers Continue.

The people of Mt. Sterling and vicinity appreciate the great advantage W. S. Lloyd obtained for them, in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.

Every bottle of the specific sold by W. S. Lloyd has had his personal guarantee to refund the money if it was not satisfactory, but none has come back, showing the wonderful curative power of this remedy.

If you have not already taken advantage of this chance to get a month's medical treatment for 25 cents, be sure to call at W. S. Lloyd's today, for he has only a small amount of the specific on hand. 48 & 50.

Agricultural College Courses.

There has been a belief held by some that the graduates of the agricultural colleges do not return to the farm. One of the chief claims for co-operation of the agricultural colleges is the fact that the students will return to the community from which they came, after having received an education at the college. It is true that the graduates are in demand for various reasons. Most of the agricultural students of the Kentucky colleges return to the farms, and we believe this is true generally.

The Iowa State College has a strong course in live stock husbandry, and while many of its graduates have entered professional work, yet most of the graduates have returned to farms. In this year's graduating class there are thirty-eight annual husbandry students, thirty-three will return to farms, four will enter college business, and one editorial work. A summary of the list for the past nine years shows that eight per cent of the Iowa students are now engaged in farm work. The students enter the college for the purpose of fitting themselves to become expert farmers, and it is becoming very difficult to divert their attention in other lines.

SCARCITY OF QUAIL

Is Caused By Dogs Eating the Eggs and Killing the Young.

R. W. Worth, a commercial traveler, has solved the problem of the scarcity of quail in Kentucky, and he is under the impression the same situation prevails in other sections of the country where the scarcity of the bird has been noted. During the past week Mr. Worth visited in Spencer county, and while roaming over the fields he was followed by a pointer dog and two puppies belonging to the family he was visiting. During the time he was there, he said, this dog destroyed three quail nests, and as each of the nests contained from twenty to thirty eggs, it could be seen that at least a half hundred quail were thus destroyed. Not only do the dogs destroy the eggs, said Mr. Worth, but in the event the eggs have hatched the dogs devour the young quail after first driving the mother bird off the nest. Mr. Worth said it was not unusual for the pointer dogs to leave the house early in the morning and run through the fields for miles during the day and destroy the quail eggs or young quail. He said he learned this fact from the people of Spencer county with whom he came in contact on his recent visit. Mr. Worth believes some action should be taken by law to compel the owners of hunting dogs to keep them confined except during the hunting season, when they are used by their owners on a hunt and at a time when there are no eggs or very young quail to be devoured by the dogs. Mr. Worth said it was the popular supposition that the scarcity of quail was due to the bad weather, but he believes predatory dogs are more responsible than the weather.

Merely a Suggestion.
During the dinner hour on board a was much disturbed by the vulgar way in which the man who sat next to him ate his meat. At last, after washing

WALSH BROTHERS

A Square Deal Sale. No shoddy; no job lots; our regular surplus stock offered in this sale.

Great Over-Stocked TEN DAYS' CUT PRICE SALE

Begins Saturday Morning,
JUNE 25,

at eight o'clock, and we surrender to the buying public, without a single profit consideration, all our finest
Stein-Bloch and Hamburger Clothing, Hats,
Shoes, Shirts, Furnishings, Trunks, Suit Cases

and other goods carried by a man's store at prices that are below the actual cost of production. You will ask why we sacrifice high-grade goods in the heart of the season. The fact is plain: The prosperous condition of the country certainly warranted the largest spring business in years. Believing that you must have the goods to sell them, we went the limit and stocked up principally on the finer grades, and March business was the best in the store's history, and it looked as though we were right, but THEN IT HAPPENED. The cold rains of April and May came and business stopped. The season is fully two months behind and every day the chances for selling are less. Every day the situation grows worse. To hold out for regular prices is no inducement for you to buy. To carry the goods over for another season would not be good business reasoning.

Hence we have

Cut the Price and Cut it Deep and on the first and the last cut, and on the world's known best in Men's Clothing. The price is marked in ink on every article. There will be no deviation from the marked price. We will send no goods out on credit.

Nothing Will Be Charged.

Carried over from the first to get choice. Our stocks are almost complete.

Sale Ends July 4, at 6 p. m., POSITIVELY.

Mustaches are not worn by men exposed to the severity of an Alaskan winter. They wear full beards to protect the throat and face, but keep the upper lip clean shaven. The moisture from the breath congeals so quickly that a mustache becomes imbedded in a solid cake of ice, and the face is frozen in a short time.

ARE SMALL, BUT INTELLIGENT

Pygmies of Northwestern Rhodesia Surely May Be Called a Class Unto Themselves.

Of the pygmies of northwestern Rhodesia a modern traveler writes: "The Batwa stand about four feet high and are long-armed, short-legged and ugly, being usually prognathous. The legs are disproportionately short, the feet large and the body is covered with a sort of down. Both sexes affect a state of complete nudity. They have their own tongue, but usually know a little of the languages of their big neighbors. No attempt is made to till the open forest glades they depend for food on game and what they steal from the fields and plantations of the surrounding tribes."

"Though there are seven different tribes of pygmies they appear to have no tribal organization. It is the custom for a group of families to attach themselves to a negro chief and in return for food to assist him to fight his enemies. The standard of morality of these little people is high and, strange to say, they are remarkably intelligent."

"The wild beasts living in the forest are killed for food, even the elephant. Pitfalls, snares and heavily weighted spears are used, but the favorite way of hunting an elephant appears to be with bow and arrow. Poisoned arrows are shot into the great beast's forehead and when he falls, when the little hunters camp round the body and feast on the carcass until it is finished."

COINAGE WITHOUT A FLAW

Assay Commission Finds Work of the Various Mints to Be Beyond Criticism.

The government of the United States no longer tests its coinage by having a congressman bite a silver dollar and then ring it on a bar, according to William B. McKinley, of the house of representatives at Illinois, who is in the city as a member of the annual assay commission, which began its work at the Philadelphia mint yesterday, says the Philadelphia Ledger.

The commission for the examination of the currency is appointed yearly by the president, and meets in this city. Among those on the committee is Dr. G. L. Shinn, of this city. One coin selected at random is taken from every 1,000 issued by any of the four mints of the country and forwarded in a sealed envelope to the Philadelphia mint for examination by the assay commission in the second week of February of each year. The commission takes specimens at random, carefully weighs them and then assays them to get the fineness.

Asked if the commission was "finding many bad ones," Congressman McKinley replied: "Many." None that fell short from the permitted variations in weight or in fineness, which are infinitesimal, has been discovered in years.

Influence on Environment.

The parrot which belonged to the rich malefactor and in his gilded cage, contemplating a prison term which had not yet been removed. Presently the magnate approached, and the bird looked at him. He had been on the witness stand that day in an important case, and was feeling rather elated over his successful testimony.

"Hello, Polly," he greeted the bird, sticking his finger through the bars. "Hello!" responded Polly, ignoring the finger.

"Does Polly want a cracker?"

The bird cocked its head to one side inquiringly. The magnate laughed at its manner. Possibly the bird had not quite understood the question.

"Does Polly want a cracker?" he repeated.

The bird still looked at him with stinging vision, but made no reply. "Oh!" he laughed. "You're not hungry. Have you had your dinner?" "I don't remember," croaked the bird, and the magnate ordered the butler to remove it from the premises forthwith.—Lippincott's.

Aluminum in Textiles.

The increased facilities for extracting aluminum from clay have brought the price of that metal, which was once $40 a pound, down to about 20 cents. Naturally it is being used more and in more various things than it was when the price was so high. One of the latest uses to which it has been put being the warp in textiles. These are used for evening cloaks and theatrical costumes. It makes the figure of a woman look as if it had been dipped in silver. Of course, the metal is drawn into very fine threads and is then used in the textile smooth or twisted.

Other things into which it is woven are neckcloths, ponchos, shawls, belts, neck ties, shawls, hats, etc. Aluminum yarn is now being woven into shoe strings for ladies' shoes.—The Pathfinder.

When He Shakes Off the Chains.

"McGoosier, the first baseman, is putting up a big holier because baseball players are slaves." "Is he? What's his salary?" "Thirty-five hundred." "Work, if he gets being a slave he has his old profession to fall back on." "What's that?" "Washing bottles in a pop factory at seven a week."

Footling the Barber.

"You didn't tell the barber you were in a hurry?" "No; I didn't want him to know it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Good News

"I write to tell you the good news that Cardui has helped me so much and I think it is just worth its weight in gold," writes Mrs. Maryan Marshall, of Woodstock, Ga. "I do hope and trust that ladies who are suffering as I did, will take Cardui, for it has been a God's blessing to me, and will certainly help every lady who is suffering."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

No matter if you suffer from headache, backache, pains in arms, shoulders and legs, dragging-down feelings, etc., or if you feel tired, weary, worn-out and generally miserable—Cardui will help you. It has helped thousands of other weak, sick ladies and if you will only give it a trial, you will be thankful ever after.

The Negro Seems to be Disappearing from Kentucky.

During the last ten years there has been a gradual falling off in the number of negroes of school age in the State, but it has not excited comment before. The newspapers at Shelbyville and Winchester discovered that there had been a falling off in the number of negroes of school age in those two counties, and have been writing editorials on the subject. But they did not know the figures for the whole State, and these are even more startling.

No figures for 1910 are available yet, but the figures given are for 1900 and 1909. The figures show the following:

White children in 1900	628,025
White children in 1909	652,443
Gain for white children	24,418
Negro children in 1900	101,771
Negro children in 1909	87,173
Loss for negro children	14,598

You Can Help.

Never find fault because a newspaper fails to give every scrap of news, so long as you take no pains to give the editor information. The average editor isn't a medium or a mind reader, but he gets the news the same way that a milkman gets his milk—by pumping. This is true especially of that class of items as personals. Rightly they are not "puffery," but simply personal mention for the information of local readers and those having friends visiting them should always let the local editor know it, and he will always be glad to give it the proper notice. So if you have a bit of news worth printing put it in the way of your pencil pusher.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store. m.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ASKED TO AID

In Contesting the Legality of the Kentucky Board of Equalization.

Judge Muir Weissinger, of Louisville, has sent out letters to County Judges over the State in counties where the State Board of Equalization has raised the assessment. Judge Weissinger calls attention of the officials to the fact that Jefferson county is taking steps to resist the raise, and asks the co-operation of all officials in counties where the assessment raise seems unjust.

In Montgomery county a general increase of five per cent. upon both city and county property was ordered. This came as a great surprise to our citizens, in view of the fact that the assessment this year was increased $184,393.00 over last year.

This Mt. Sterling citizen will show you how to go to the rescue:

Robert Sheridan, S. Queen St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for two years and have found them to be a remedy that lives up to representations. I suffered greatly from lumbago which came on by attacks, some of which were so severe that I could hardly get around. I had pains through my back and kidneys at times extending into my shoulders. I was also annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions and I think that hard work on the railroad was responsible for my suffering. I was unable to find relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store. They gave me prompt relief and I continued taking them until cured."

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they can, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.
